9 CABELA'S RETAIL, INC.,

10 Plaintiff,

11 v.

12 HAWKS PRAIRIE INVESTMENT, LLC,

13 Defendant.

No. 11-CV-5973 RBL

ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

[Dkt. #28]

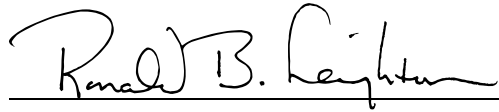

14
15 On March 20, 2012, following a status hearing, the Court ordered the parties to exchange
16 reciprocal letters, copying the Court, in order to set an expedited discovery basis. The Court
17 reasoned that an expedited schedule was warranted given the limited discovery necessary to 18 address the legal issues in dispute. On March 21, 2010, Cabela's proposed an expedited
19 schedule, which was adopted by the Court on April 5th after Hawks Prairie failed to respond.
20 Hawks Prairie now moves for reconsideration of the scheduling order arguing that Cabela's has
21 indicated it will open its Tulalip store regardless of the outcome of this case, and thus, there is no
22 need for an expedited schedule. (See Def.'s Mot. for Reconsideration at 1 (Dkt. #28).)

23 The parties were given the opportunity to argue the advantages and disadvantages of an
24 expedited schedule at the March status conference. Hawks Prairie agreed to an expedited
25 schedule and has failed to comply with the Court's instructions.

26 Hawks Prairie further argues that it is unsure whether it or Homestreet will lead the 27 litigation. Id. at 2. That question does not affect the scheduling order; the two entities are ably
28 suited to resolving that matter themselves.

1 Here, however, Hawks Prairie merely reargues the status conference. The motion for
2 reconsideration is DENIED.

4 Dated this 11th day of April 2012.
